

VOLIVA WINS BIG FORTUNE IN TEN YEARS AT 'ZION'

Overseer Now Owns 23 Industries in Town, and Lays Success to Religion.

ZION CITY, Ill., Nov. 29.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, has increased his fortune from $3 cents to $8,000,000 in 10 years.

He has just turned down a $100,000 a year job as sales manager.

And still he believes that the world is flat!

Every one knows how Voliva, as successor to Dr. John Alexander Dowse, the first overseer of Zion City, has made his half-millionaire of blue towns.

But few have heard of Voliva's stupendous success as a financier and captain of industry.

Voliva returned Zion City from the receiver's auction block after the death of Dowse. With his total assets $2 cents he negotiated a $1,000,000 loan.

Voliva Owns City. Today Voliva owns Zion City. Everything in his name, including the 23 industries which last year did a total business of $2,156,051.24.

Today Voliva's properties are almost free from debt, the city treasury is bulging with revenues, its industries are running 24 hours a day, and it goes without saying, there is no unemployment.

Voliva's 5,000 followers give him all the credit. He is 51, was born on a farm in Newton, Ind., is the community's religious as well as worldly leader, and yet takes no personal pride in his accomplishments. He has fixed his own salary at $250 a month and refuses to consider more.

Talents God-Given. "God gave me certain talents," says Voliva. "The peculiar faculty for making money is mine by heritage."

"I'll use, this gift is more than a curse. It is only well employed when serving others and guided by religion."

In his role of overseer, Voliva has more duties and positions than a vaudeville quick change artist.

"Primarily there is but one road to success, and that road lies along the highway of eternal and constant ambition," Voliva explains.

"But every man, to start with, providing he has an abiding faith has a book value of $250,000."

"At least I would value a man's religion on a business basis as being worth $250,000."

"For in religion reposes character, perseverance and help against adversity."

Shelter and Strength. "It offers shelter in time of need and strength when disaster threatens."

"To capitalize one's faith, a combination of horse sense and the sagacity for making money are necessary."

"Not every man of religion can become wealthy. But religion as an adjunct to money making ability will multiply the chances for making money."

"I raised $3 cents to the dignity of $8,000,000 because I: "Tried to keep faith with God and man."

"Never did myself what I could train others to do for me."

"Surrounded myself with the right kind of minds and made them work."

"Endeavored to visualize opportunity always."

"Took chances when I believed myself right."

"Bought always to keep alive and active."

"Tempered all business deals with religion."

"It is possible for any one to do likewise. At least it is possible to mingle religion and business on a practical basis. The combination pays big dividends because it is wholesome, and nothing but on-the-level industry is getting by these days."

FREE MINERS IN VIRGINIA RIOTS

LEWISBURG, W. Va., Nov. 29.—Seven men who were on trial in the Green Brier circuit court charged with complicity in the "shooting up" of Mohawk, a mining town of McDowell county, more than a year ago, were found not guilty by a jury today upon instructions from Judge Summers H. Sharp.

However, five others who were found guilty of the same charge last week were sentenced to three years each in the state penitentiary. Counsel for the defense announced that their cases would be appealed.

All other indictments returned in connection with the Mohawk shooting which was incident to the industrial disturbances in southern West Virginia, were dismissed upon motion of the prosecution.

SUZANNE DENIES "FAKING" ILLNESS

PARIS, Nov. 29.—Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, French tennis star, indignantly denied at Nice today the charges that she had "faked" the same day she collapsed on the American tennis courts.

She claimed she was still under the care of a doctor. The French papers have ignored the reports that the French star "faked" her illness in America for fear she was going to be beaten. Only one paper printed the story.

MEDAL FOR MAJOR BATTLES RECEIVED

Alex Kovatch Honored for Participation in World Conflict.

Red Cross officials Tuesday morning received the honor medal of Alex Kovatch, designating the five major battles in which the World War veteran participated during the summer and fall of 1918. Kovatch, who is now at the soldiers' home at Marion, suffered shell shock as a result of his experiences and was the victim of a hallucination about a month ago.

The battles in which he participated were Montdidier-Noyon, Alsace-Marne, St. Mihiel, Meuse-Argonne and Defensive Sector.

Mayor Carson is 'Wised Up' While City Gains Cash

Sign on New Dental Parlor Window Causes "Boss" to Part With Dollar.

That voluminous digest of information, the building code, declared by those generally in favor of strict enforcement of its provisions as the best of any city in the state, passed the "buck" on one of its principal proponents Tuesday and incidentally enriched the coffers of the building department to the sum of $1, at the mayor's expense.

A screaming banner fastened against a building on W. Washington av. proclaims the opening of the Franklin R. Carson dental offices on a near date. The sign, sufficient in size that "all who read may know," furnishes the plot of the story.

John De Haven, business man and member of the board of public works, took the initiative to inquire if a permit had been issued for the erection of the sign and content with the purpose of his mission waited at the mayor's city hall sanctum a good part of an hour Tuesday morning to make sure the mayor or had conformed to the law.

"Why so serious?" inquired the mayor of his protegee when the latter finally gained admittance into the inner office.

"Mayor, have you taken out a permit for that sign of yours?" asked De Haven, in tones that expected a negative for an answer. He was not disappointed.

"Nothing in the world requires that," declared the mayor, explaining that "the best offices of their kind were soon available to the public."

"But it does," broke in De Haven who insisted on keeping to the subject, adding, "Let me show you."

"Taking the mayor by the shoulder, the board of works member led the protesting mayor into the office of Building Commissioner Davis.

Informed of the correct phraseology of the code, the dentist-mayor procured a blank permit and filed it out.

"One dollar," informed the commissioner, raising his voice as Messrs. Carson and De Haven were about to pass out of the door.

"Injury to insult," responded the mayor, and throwing the dollar up on the counter caught the laugh of his friend and jester companion.

"I'll make you pay that dollar to me one way or the other," blustered the mayor to De Haven, who, happy at putting one over on the "boss," declared he would always be owing the "cartwheel."

GIRL SOLD SELF FOR $3,000 SUM

CHICAGO, Nov. 29.—It might pay to advertise but not for a husband. Mrs. James Edward Miller, pretty high school miss who offered herself for sale for $3,000 to "secure a college education" reached this conclusion today.

"I didn't get a college education, but I sure got an education," she said.

She has parted from Miller whom she said, promised to provide the $3,000 worth of learning but didn't.
